SUMMARY

A dedicated and enthusiastic Frontend Developer with a profound commitment to continuous learning and advancement in the realm of web development. Possessing proficiency in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, with an ongoing focus on mastering ReactJS & MERN STACK. Actively seeking opportunities to acquire valuable experience and make meaningful contributions to a dynamic and collaborative team environment. Accomplished in delivering successful projects in React.

I've created not only responsive and interactive user interfaces, but also designed many of my own projects from scratch. This ability to create and execute my designs ensures that I understand the full lifecycle of a project, from concept to deployment. I'm also well-versed in converting Dribbble and Figma designs into responsive code.

I am currently enhancing my skills in the MERN stack, gaining valuable experience in backend technologies. This holistic approach to development makes me confident that I could add substantial value to your team, not just as a frontend developer but as a versatile problem-solver.
